SPECIAL FEATURES

Jacques Marchand and his son Etienne are fifth generation wine makers in the village of Gevrey Chambertin in the heart of the Cote de Nuits in Burgundy. Grapes are from 40 year old vines and no chemicals are used in the traditional viticulture practised by the family. Grapes are carefully selected on the vine and again on the sorting table. They undergo a cold maceration for 8 days before fermentation.

AWARDS

Gold Medal International Wine Awards.

TASTING NOTES

Bright, dark red with a clear, powerful blackberry nose and hints of coffee. Smooth, consistent palate with dark berries and chocolate and a long, complex, finish with sweet, ripe tannins. Can be aged for up to 30 years.

WINE AT HOME SAYS

Another Wine at Home rare find, this exceptional Burgundy is drinking well but will keep for many years in cellar conditions. Too good to miss.
